scents to warm your home

From the creators of Smitten, comes Smitten: Scents to warm your home.

With fragrances conjured up from our most beloved baked delicacies, comes Smitten Scents... Candles, which transport you to times past when ovens warmed our homes with the sweet and spicy aromas of cinnamon, vanilla and berries! Our scent specialists work tirelessly to ensure Smitten Scents smell just as delicious as their namesakes and then hand-pour them into gorgeous vintage mason or apothecary jars that compliment any décor.

Smitten Scents are made from renewable soybean wax with all natural wicks making them extremely clean burning and kind to the environment...and because our products contain no nasty paraffin or petroleum you can say sayonara to sooty burns for good!

With Smitten Scents you can warm your home with the smells of your favourite baked goods without even turning on the oven! If like us you've been disappointed by scented candles in the past because they just don't smell, we guarantee you will be blown away by our super-strength Smitten Scents!
